

High Efficiency Total absorption spectrometer (HECTOR)

- HECTOR utilized gamma-summing technique for cross section measurements. The γ -rays from each de-excitation cascade are summed into a single peak in the spectrum.
- HECTOR will be used for a variety of measurements of capture reactions, not only for the p-process, but also for stellar burning nucleosynthesis.

